Timezones ANSWERS

Sam lives in England and he's inviting friends to his birthday party. He has already phoned his English friends, but now he wants to invite his friends that live abroad. The problem is that because they live in different countries, the time isn't always the same as it is at home in England. Can you help sam by working out what time it is in the countries where Sam's friends live?

Note: It is winter, and none of the countries in this list are adjusting their local time to daylight saving time.
